Overview

01 Resilience vs Feedback

1. Definition
2. General Characteristics

03 From criticism to development

02 How do we give feedback?

04 Discussion

“Success is not final, failure is not fatal; it is the courage to continue that counts”

-Winston Churchill

01

Resilience vs Feedback

1. What is resilience?
2. What is feedback?

What is resilience?

- The ability to recover from or adjust easily to misfortune or change (Merriam-Webster Dictionary).
- The capacity to bounce back, to withstand hardship and to repair yourself (Woolin and Woolin, 1993).
- Process of adapting well in the face of adversity, trauma, tragedy, threats, or significant sources of stress (family, work or relationship problems), (American Psychological Association).

What is NOT resilience?

- People that are considered (which is wrong) to be emotionless or impassive.
- Someone won't experience trauma or stress.

Reflection Break 1

What characteristics do resilient people share?

Characteristics of Resilient people

- Learn from mistakes.
- Flexible /Adapt to change.
 - Reflective.
- Regulate their emotions.
 - Support other people.
- Willing to help others and receive help.
 - Problem-solver.
 - Commit to a goal.
 - Know thyself!
- Set personal or collective goals.
 - Patient.
 - Faith.
 - Optimistic.

(Conner and Davidson, 2003)

What is feedback?

- Information or statements of opinion about something, such as new product, that can tell you if it is successful or liked (Cambridge Dictionary)
- Advice or criticism (!) or information about how good or useful something or someone's work is (Oxford Learner's Dictionary)

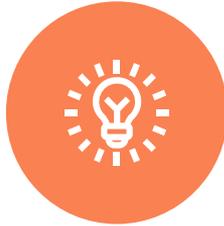

Different types of feedback

Directive feedback
(Gebhard, 1990)/
Individual Feedback

Peer Feedback

Self Feedback

General Feedback

Different ways of delivering feedback

Technological tools

- Turnitin
- Blackboard
- Google Jamboard
- Survey monkey
- Google Forms

Written/Audio/Video

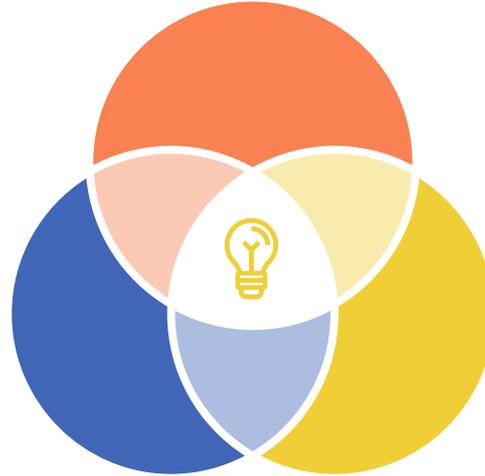

- Docs
- Audacity
- Vocaroo
- You Tube/Tik Tok
- Podcast

Class Discussions

- In class quizzes
- Reports
- Short and reflective journal entries
- Checklists

When can we/they give feedback?

At the beginning

At the end

During the lesson

Effective Feedback

- Appropriate (+amount)
 - Meaningful
 - Proactive
 - Related to goals
 - Nonjudgmental
- Clear/easy to understand
- Specific / Focus on one skill/ability
 - Timely
- Create a culture/routine around it
 - Varied
- Not focused on personality but on facts
 - Descriptive
 - Guided/reflective

Are resilience and feedback linked?

Aware of who we are.

Positive feedback --> optimistic, patient, improve performance, motivate.

Stop and think!

Discuss and ask for help.

Stronger relationships.

Linked to goals,
commit to a goal.

Focus on what can be done (problem solving).

Keep track of your progress.

Lifelong learning.

How do we give feedback?

Reflection Break 2

How do we give feedback (as teachers/trainers)?

Your personality does not allow you to be flexible!

No, No, No!
Change this!
Omg! Another mistake!

Brilliant!
Well Done!

I think that you have forgotten everything!
Study more!

I have already told you what to do! You don't listen to me!

Keep up the good work! I love the way you work!

• Was this an effective feedback?

- Was it appropriate (+amount) ?
 - Was it meaningful?
- Was it related to my goals?
 - Was it nonjudgmental?
- Was it clear/easy to understand?
 - Was it specific?
 - Was it varied?
- Was it focused on my personality or on facts?
 - Was it descriptive?
 - Was it guided?

Instead...

- Use of negative words and phrases
 - Focus on behavior
 - Not clear
 - Not specific
 - Not meaningful
 - Not appropriate at all

So... what can we do?

How can I (/they) give positive, meaningful and constructive feedback?

Create quizzes/problem-solving tasks

Set
S.M.A.R.T.
(E.R.)
Goals

Use positive words

- What do you think...?
- Have you thought of...?
- Perhaps you could...
- I really liked/find amazing...
- How could you...
- Can you think of...
- I encourage you...

Tag me please!

- Tell a positive comment.
- Ask a reflective question.
- Give a positive suggestion.

How can I give positive, meaningful and constructive feedback?

Provide affirmation

Confirm what they have done.

Every problem has its own solution.
Ask them reflective questions/ guide them to find the correct answer

Failure is the best!

Focus on one skill/ability

Clear feedback

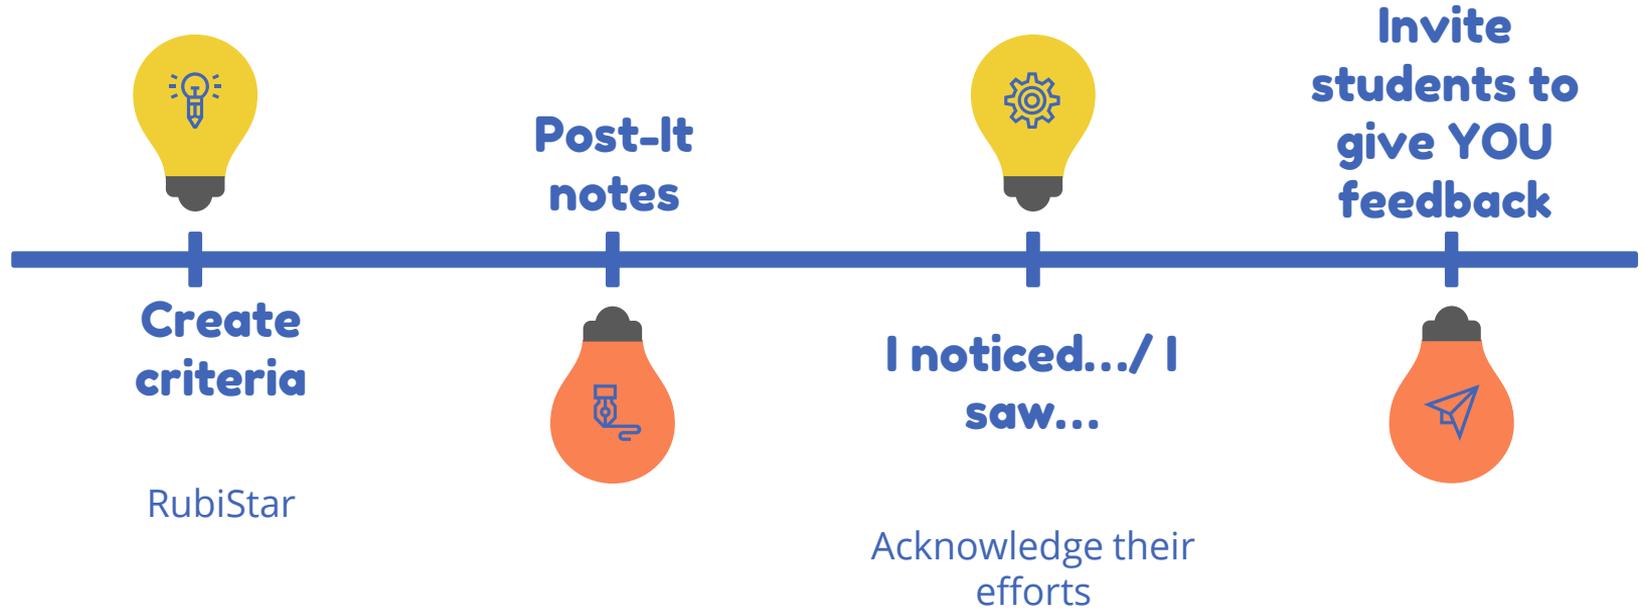

- What they did well?
- How they did that?
- What can they do?
- How are they going to do that?

Ask

How can I give positive, meaningful and constructive feedback?

How can I give positive, meaningful and constructive feedback?

"I noticed that a lot of students face the same problem.."/ "I had the same issue when I was at your age.."

Empathy

Provide examples of good work/
Discuss them

Ask your ss how they prefer to be given feedback

Use both open and closed qs

- How did you feel...?
- What did you do to overcome your stress during the mid-term stress?

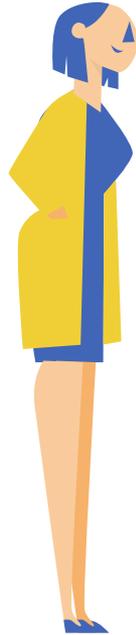

Written?
Peers?
Individual?
Orally?
Non-verbally?

From criticism to development...
Why?

Why give positive, constructive feedback matters?

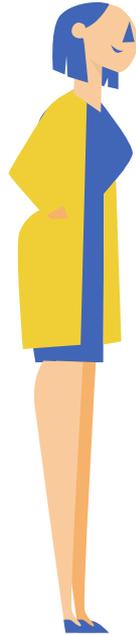

- Good performance (Nicol, 2007)
- Develop self-assessment skills
- Help Ss set clear goals and stick to them (Nicol, 2007)
- Persistence, not give up easily (Nicol, 2007)
- Ss pay more attention because it is focused on the outcomes (Gibbs et al., 2004)
- Increase motivation and self-esteem → they see that feedback is an evaluation of work, not the person

Why give positive, constructive feedback matters?

- To improve their teaching (Nicol, 2007)
- Timperley and Hattie (2007) importance of giving feedback because we need to know what we have done right or wrong.
- Samuels and Wu (undated) positive effects of immediate feedback on students' performance
- Make feedback part of learning (build routines)
- Our 'defensive ego' is hiding → we are open to discussion and improvement
- Not afraid of failing → growth and healthy mindset

Why give positive, constructive feedback matters?

- Students pay attention (focusing on something can both create and strengthen neural networks) → attention creates connections → attending actively is vital for learning (McNeil, 2009).
- Oded & Oded (2019) → create a safe environment, set goals, provide meaningful feedback → neural networks can be strengthened and developed through trial and error (practice makes perfect)
- Feedback is linked to achievable learning goals. Highlight areas for improvement and gives suggestions to change.

● Can you see the link between them?

Discussion

Final Thoughts

What if I fail?
Well... Try again!

1

Feedback and Resilience are linked!

2

Specific, Meaningful, Timely, Focus on goals, Positive

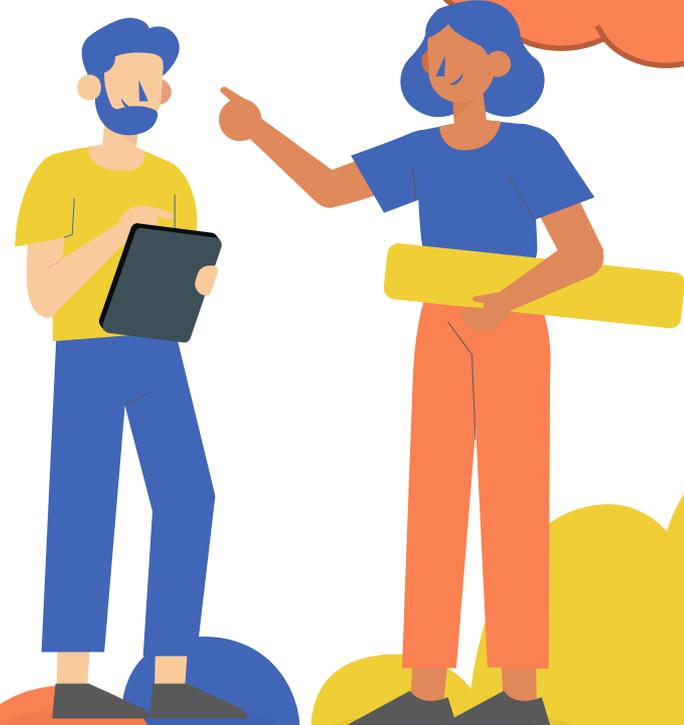

3

Self-esteem, motivation, confidence, autonomy

Identify, explore, solve...

Feedback in order to feedforward
