Venue: Salini Suite, Salini Resort

4 hours of CPD

1530 – 1600 Registration and
Welcome Coffee

1600 – 1800 Training Part 1

1800 – 1830 Coffee Break

1830 – 2030 Training Part 2

As Generation Alpha students begin to influence the classroom environment, educators are increasingly encouraged to rethink traditional teaching approaches. This interactive workshop delves into the distinctive traits, needs, and learning preferences of today’s youngest learners—born into a fully digital world. Grounded in current research and practical insight, the session introduces innovative, brain-friendly strategies that nurture curiosity, collaboration, emotional intelligence, and meaningful engagement. Participants will leave with actionable tools to better connect with and support Generation Alpha in today’s fast-evolving educational context.

DR. ERIKA GALEA

Dr. Erika Galea is the founder of the Educational Neuroscience Hub and a passionate advocate for bringing brain-based insights into classrooms and schools. With a Ph.D. from University College London and over two decades in education, she bridges research and practice through dynamic, practical workshops. Her sessions translate neuroscience into powerful strategies educators can immediately apply to boost engagement, emotional intelligence, and student success. Join her to discover how understanding the brain transforms teaching and learning.
